Attempted robbery of the State Bank, Bessemer, Thursday, was completely solved, state police say, during the past 48 hours, with the arrest of Homer Christner, 55, Ellwood City; and Mrs. Nellie Arrendondo, alias Sellers, 53, colored, Youngstown.
Christner was arrested at Ellwood City Saturday night by State Trooper Engle. Mrs. Arrendondo was arrested yesterday at Warren, O., by Troopers Engle, McCullough and Lawrence County deputy sheriff, Hartland.

Edward Scales, 43, colored, Youngstown, formerly of this city,
was arrested at Bessemer by Police Chief Shoup immediately after the attempted robbery, Thursday.

Arrests Over Week End
According to Engle Christner was taken into custody at 9:45 p. m.
Saturday at Ellwood City and Sunday morning confessed his complicity. After Mrs. Arrendondo was brought to this city she also admitted her part, according to Engle.
The Chevrolet car, alleged stolen, was located in a private garage near Youngstown and will be brought here. It contained holes from bullets fired by Cashier Charles Weitz while Christner and Mrs. Arrendondo were making their get-away, police relate.

Scales and Christner entered the bank. Scales pointed the gun at Cashier Weitz and Christner was to leap over the counter and scoop up money, they are alleged to have told the troopers. When Weitz dropped behind the counter and shouted for help, V. I. Mandich came from a rear room to his aid. Scales ran, pursued from the place, by Christner.
The car driven by the negro sped up to the bank. It had been parked

Movie Photographers Excluded From Court At Hauptmann Trial

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON,
N. J., Feb. 4.—Justice Thomas W.
Trenchard today excluded from the courtroom at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann photographers who secretly have been taking sound pictures in defiance of the order of the court.

The judge was annoyed by the fact "talkies" have been taken by movie apparatus placed in the balcony overlooking the courtroom and other strategic shots. He ordered the court officers to see that such contrivances are excluded and added that no agents or employees of the companies guilty of having taken such pictures would be allowed in the courtroom henceforth.

Justice Trenchard looked very solemn as he took his place after the jury was polled he said:
"In Defiance Of Court
"I very much regret to be informed that there have been taken in this courtroom some movie and talking pictures of the trial. And of course, it is well understood that

Hauptmann Buoyed Up By Visit From Wife And Baby During Week End

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 4.— Bruno Hauptmann's trial for the murder of the Lindbergh baby entered its fifth week today with the battle lines definitely drawn. The state contends the crime was committed by Hauptmann alone, whereas the defense is striving hard to prove it was an "inside job" with several persons involved.

Hauptmann, refreshed by a weekend respite from the courtroom, which time he spent reading a book in his cell called "Gentleman's courage," realizes the issue is drawn and is prepared to lend his lawyers every assistance in their efforts to prove their contention.

State Buried By Blanket Of Snow

Wintry Weather Arrives
Over Week-End; Highways Dangerously Icy

(International News Service)

The Punxsutawney groundhog who gazed at his shadow, let out a wail about six more weeks of wintry weather and then dashed into his hole Saturday saw his prediction come true today.

A light blanket of snow buried many sections of the state and light falls were predicted for all portions either tonight or tomorrow.

Sub-zero temperatures were to experience another nosedive.
Snow, covering ice coated highways, was a menace to motorists and caused serious crashes over the week end.

Theatre Bandits Shot To Death

Two Of Bandits Gang Killed,
Third Escapes Hail Of Bul-

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The old anxious "crime does not pay" was pretty definitely settled here today.
When the smoke of battle had cleared from an attempted holdup of a motion picture theatre by three young bandits the crime ledger showed net profit, one dollar, net loss, two lives.

Three bandits drove up to the Loew National Theatre, took $40 from the till. Henry Loew, a brother of the late Marcus Loew, movie pioneer, opened fire upon the trio, killing one on the spot. Another of the stick-up men was accounted for by policeman John McGurk. The third escaped.

All but $1 was recovered from the

SEE THE ECLIPSE? WE DIDN'T EITHER

eclipse of the sun on Sunday

Smoked glasses had been carefully prepared and the seems, the care and watching was for naught because snow-laden clouds completely hid the sun. At no time during

News dispatches today reported that western states saw the eclipse.

It was the first eclipse to be visible in any part of the United States since August 31, deal of Russian news! They say our debt negotiations fell. One of the principal reasons these

Then I see where Russia is their finish. The world don't have to worry about them be-

HOUSE TO PUSH GOVERNOR EARLE'S BILLS

To Name Probers Of Liquor Stores

Legislature To Resume Sessions At Harrisburg This Evening

MANY BILLS UP FOR CONSIDERATION

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The Democratic house majority today prepared to give legislative right-of-way this week to Gov. George H. Earle's liquor bills together with a series of tax relief measures, pausing only long enough to start the machinery for a probe of the liquor stores system.

Three of the administration's nine liquor bills were on the house calendar for the reading tonight as the biennial session moved into the fifth week. One more, the last of the series—the omnibus workmen's compensation measure—was to be introduced tonight. All those not yet reported from committee were expected to be sent to the floor promptly.

To Name Probers.
Before taking up the calendar, Speaker Wilson G. Sarig, Berks, was to name the seven house members to the commission which will investigate liquor purchases of the liquor control board, as requested last week by Governor Earle. Five Democrats and two Republicans were to be named.

This commission, expected to be headed by Rep. Herbert Cohen, York, probably will begin hearings later this week. Members of the liquor control board are expected to be the first witnesses called, to inform the commission regarding the so-called secret contracts made with three distillers to avoid court suits on the $2 per gallon floor tax.

The labor bills already reported are the Haluska bill to reduce the maximum weekly working hours of women to 40; the Harman bill providing that deputy sheriffs be paid by counties, the Coolahan bill repealing the industrial police act, and other measures in the series include a state NRA act, strict regulation of industrial home-work, expansion of restrictions of child labor from 18 to 18 years, and providing to assist workers to obtain wages from fly-by-night concerns.

Other Measures.
Riding along with the administration labor bills is that of Rep. Marshall Shepard, Philadelphia, forbidding racial discrimination in employing laborers for public works. The calendar also contains the Brantley bill authorizing Pennsylvania banks, building and loan associations and trust companies to make loans under the federal housing act. Two of the three tax relief bills are designed to facilitate collection of delinquency taxes. They are the Pearson bill authorizing installment payments of delinquent levies and the Mentzer bill empowering local governments to abate interest and penalties on back taxes. The third bill, sponsored by Rep. Roy Shreiner, Dauphin, would permit refunding local bond issues at their interest rates.

Meanwhile, the senate was scheduled to mark time with a minimum calendar until Wednesday when the constitutional changes committee headed by Senator G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, opens hearings on the administration's constitutional revision bill. Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti was to be the first witness called to outline his belief that the constitutional convention may be called without a referendum.

The senate calendar contained the bill which duplicates the administration's child labor measure and the Woodward bill to permit free trade zones in Philadelphia, both up for second reading.

Income Tax

NO. 7 HUSBAND AND WIFE MAY FILE JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS

Husband and wife living together may each make a separate return of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a return of a taxable unit, and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax. If a joint return is not made by an agent of the taxpayers it must be signed by both husband and wife and sworn to before a proper officer by the spouse preparing the return, or if neither or both prepare the return then by both spouses.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the joint personal exemption of $2,500 may be taken by either or divided between them in any proportion as agreed upon. In certain cases it would be to the advantage of the couple if they should file separate returns and one spouse claim the total joint personal exemption. In the following examples, which illustrate this point, the husband has a net income of $4,700, all of which represents earned net income, and the wife has a separate net income of $2,500, not earned net income.

Net income, husband	$4,700.00
Less personal exemption	2,500.00
Bal. (surtax net income)	$2,200.00
No surtax applicable since amount is less than $4,000.
Earned income credit	470.00

Net income subject to normal tax	$1,730.00
Husband's normal tax at 4 per cent	69.20
Net income of wife	$2,500.00
Less personal exemption	None
Less earned income credit	250.00

Net income subject to normal tax	$2,250.00
Wife's normal tax at 4 per cent	90.00
Total tax of husband and wife	$159.20
Computation—Joint Return.
Net income, husband	$4,700.00
Net income, wife	$2,500.00
Less personal exemption	2,500.00

Bal. (surtax net income)	$4,700.00
Earned income credit—10 per cent of earned income of husband	$470.00
*10 per cent of net income of wife, $2,500	250.00
Net income subject to normal tax	$3,980.00
Normal tax, 4 per cent on cent on $3,980	$159.20
Surtax at 4 per cent on amount in excess of $4,000, but not over $6,000, 4 per cent $700 (earned income credit not allowable in computation of surtax)	28.00
Total tax, joint return of husband and wife	$187.20

It will be noted that the saving in tax resulting from the filing of separate returns amounts to $28 in the above computations.

*Note—In filing a joint return husband and wife compute the earned income credit in the same manner as in filing separate returns. If taxpayer's net income is not more than $3,000 the entire net income is considered to be earned net income.

HAUPTMANN BUOYED UP BY VISIT FROM WIFE AND BABY

up as a result of a visit he received Sunday from his wife, Anna, and their one-year-old baby son, Manfred. Emerging from the jail, Mrs. Hauptmann said her husband felt badly when the baby was taken away but that the visit nevertheless cheered him immensely.

For the first time since the trial the jury of four women and eight men, got a glimpse of the Hauptmann baby. The jurors were taking their exercise, strolling back and forth on the balcony of the Union hotel, when they observed the baby in Mrs. Hauptmann's arms just before she took him into the jail.

Edward J. Kelly, chief counsel for the defense, returned from a week-end trip to New York, saying he has a number of other "surprise" witnesses and promising some important revelations in the near future.

Frau Hilda Braunlich-Zaenglein, formerly of Wuerzburg, Germany, a handwriting expert, is in Flemington ready to take the stand as a witness for the defense.

Expert To Testify
She is prepared to testify that in her opinion, based on a study of both Hauptmann's penmanship and the writing of the Lindbergh ransom notes, that Hauptmann did not write the ransom communications.

As the trial enters its final phases the element of contest between state and defense becomes more pronounced. Interest is being whipped up to a high point. So many thousands upon thousands of words have been sent out of Flemington to the newspapers of the world that the reaction is amazing.

The trial is moving along at a fairly fast gait. The defense expects to rest its case on Thursday. They have about thirty witnesses yet to call, according to Attorney Kelly. If how long the state will take on rebuttal largely depends upon the evidence the defense witnesses will give this week.

To Disprove Testimony
New York, Feb. 4.—Louis Kiss's story that he saw Bruno Richard Hauptmann in a Bronx bakery shop the night the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was kidnapped will be contested by Leo Singer, to whom Kiss said he delivered two bottles of rum on the same night, if the prosecution so desires, Singer said today.

Singer told reporters he was prepared to testify flatly that Kiss called at his home some time after March 10, 1932, not on March 1, as he testified at Flemington.

Kiss testified he could prove he was in Singer's home because he had noticed a clock radio in the living room. A sales slip in his possession shows that the clock radio was not bought before March 10, however Singer declared. Singer said he was forwarding the slip to Attorney General Wilentz of New Jersey.

We notice when our new Governor recommended some new legislation at Harrisburg, he thought there should be a law enacted to fine or punish in some way employers who would not pay their help. We wonder if he never thought of a law that the business man could collect his legitimate bills from men who are employed, some of whom you see driving fine cars, wearing fine clothes and spending money right and left, and owing every merchant they can, and some of these employed by the State, County or City.

Evidently our new Governor was never in business. WE DO NOT LEND OR RENT OUR CHAIRS. THEY ARE FOR FUNERAL WORK ONLY. HAVE YOU THE UTMOST FAITH IN YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

Saturday afternoon 76 children and mothers enjoyed a delightful party in the First Methodist church.

The children were members of the junior choir and were being feted by the members of the music committee in appreciation of their faithful services.

After a period of games, conducted by Daniel A. Carroll and Fern Cloak, the youngsters and mothers were invited to the dining room where a long table, centered with colorful early spring flowers, added a note of gaiety as the music committee members served refreshments.

REPUBLICAN FROM INDIANA

THE election of a Republican to congress from the Second Indiana District might pass unnoticed in ordinary times, but his victory in a by-election to fill an unexpired term is notice to the country that the Republican party is still on the map. Charles A. Halleck, who now becomes the sole Republican member of the Indiana delegation campaigned with the promise: "I will not be a rubber stamp member."

His majority of more than 5000 against his Democratic opponent is not so large as was polled in the last election, but it is enough to show that the Republican party in that part of the country is still alive and likely to be heard from in the next election.

USES OF ANTARCTICA

Persons who don't like the cold weather and who would just as soon stay at home anyhow have inquired, in the manner peculiar to the provincial and the reactionary, what, if any, is the use of Admiral Byrd's 200,000 square miles of Antarctica, recently annexed to the United States for the greater glory of our empire. The inquiry apparently has been delivered with such force that it has penetrated to the good admiral in his distant outpost and, through the New York Times, he has attempted to answer it.

It seems that there are 22 uses of the discovery, and that the geographical use is only one of them. Among the other subjects being studied by the hardy pioneers of Marie Byrd Land are these, as well:

Astronomy, meteorology, physical oceanography, biology, oceanography, vertebrate and invertebrate zoology, mammalogy, physiology, glaciology, stratigraphy, petrography, paleontology, tectonic and economic geology, geophysics, physical geography, cartography, physical and terrestrial magnetism, bacteriology and botany.

To them, as suggested the other day by an Englishman in Australia, might be added the potentialities of the new territory as a summer resort, abounding in winter sports. For all the uses to which the land may be put considerable persons will be thankful. They would hate to think that Admiral Byrd and his stout company spent so long a time in so frigid a place for nothing.

VANISHING DIPHTHERIA

The success of the New York State Health Department in its efforts to eradicate diphtheria has been large and encouraging. In 1934 only 442 cases of diphtheria were reported throughout the state. In 1914 the number of cases was 5,408, and in 1924 it was 5,883. A reduction of more than 92 per cent in 10 years is an astonishing achievement.

The health department attributes the small number of cases mainly to immunization of young children against the disease. It is working toward the goal of immunity for every child, but there can be great success in preventing diphtheria before that goal is reached. In Binghantown and Niagara Falls, two cities of more than 50,000 population each, there were no diphtheria cases at all in 1934. That is a record never before made in the 26 years in which morbidity records have been kept in the state. Yet only 40 and 43 per cent of the children in those two cities were immunized.

Curing diseases is an important task, but prevention is the big thing.

ALL SET FOR 1936

In Mr. Roosevelt's selection of his running mate for re-election in 1936 the last hope that the Democratic national convention of that year will be anything more than a cut-and-dried affair has disappeared. Mr. Roosevelt will run, of course. He wants Vice President Garner as his running-mate, so Mr. Garner will run. The ticket thus is already written, and the platform is as good as built. It will be Roosevelt and Garner and the issue of the New Deal.

The determination of an important political question so far ahead has the virtue of supplying Republicans plenty of warning long in advance. They may now move ahead with a confidence that nothing can happen to upset their plans. They know not only the names of the men against whom they will have to fight but also where the battleground will be located. If they fail to take advantage of this intelligence it will be their own fault.

The word that Vice President Garner has the president's favor will be a disappointment to several aspiring Democrats. They had entertained ambitions of their own, although they must have been aware of the fact that Mr. Garner could have the place if he desired it. The mistake they made was in assuming that there was something behind the stories that the Texan was not happy in the vice presidency and longed for a return of the days when he was speaker of the house. The stories never rang quite true.

Even in the vice presidency where many a good man has been prematurely buried Mr. Garner has occupied a comparatively strong position in public life. He has had long congressional experience, and has definite convictions on questions of governmental policies. And despite his recent position, he may have been a restraining influence on the extreme liberals who have surrounded the president. It will be no surprise if it is ultimately revealed that Mr. Garner's part in formulating the New Deal was not one of mere assent.

Television will clear up one of radio's mysteries: Who Cheerio is, and what a fellow looks like who feels that way early in the morning.

Dr. Townsend estimates the cost of his old age pension plan at $24,000,000,000 a year. Perhaps it would be a little cheaper if we carried out Huey Long's idea and made every man a king.

Now there is a movement to abolish the Electoral College. But instead of scrapping the old institution why not hire a high-pressure football coach and try to make it amount to something!

It is often through circuitous ways that justice scores at least an approach to a triumph. Shelbyville, Tenn., mobs burned the court house a short time ago and now have to pay for a new one.

In fifteen years, according to the president of the National Inventors' Congress, we'll be living in a push-button era. This would be an especially attractive prospect if we could be certain that we would have a few helpers around to push the buttons for us.

The Final Judgment will take only one day. You see, it won't be necessary to hold the deal till somebody can take it to the Supreme Court.

FROM STEEL WORKER

Editor New Castle News—
Was amazed at the article headed "Steel Workers Hear Proposal by Lewis" in Friday's News. The most preposterous idea I ever encountered in any newspaper. However, they are to be congratulated upon their efforts, no matter how futile they may turn out to be. If any one in this city has any suggestions to offer as to the method of procedure to use in getting the Steel Mill started, let him come forth and explain, and if it is plausible, we will all listen, but this proposal is the rankest kind of nonsense.

In the first place the charter would prohibit any such scheme as Lewis proposes. The Steel Corporation cannot accept gifts of any kind. But, assuming that they could accept the magnificent (?) offer of the employees and then they could erect a battery of Open Hearth furnaces here at the local plant; what would happen? Just as soon as the plant was working full and dividends were again being paid to stock holders the employees would kick like steers to get their money back. And what about the new employees taken on in the meantime? Would they have to pay too?

This is another case of locking the door after the horse has been stolen. Uneconomical operation was the sole cause of this plant shutting down, nothing else. These same employees didn't think of donating any wages in 1930 when the plant was on the rocks ready to collapse. It is the same thing as buying a job, and that went out of fashion forty years ago. Or it is the same thing as saying that the corporation is over paying the men. How many will agree to that?

A battery of ovens here will not cure the trouble. Youngtowns Bessemer plant is working. Mine's plant is working. So Chicago plant is making Bessemer steel. The tin mills in this city like to get Bessemer steel. It works better, it makes a smoother sheet, it opens better, it causes less waste in the hot mill and in the cold rolls. It is as good as Open Hearth for the purpose of making tin cans and that is the main use of any steel manufactured in this city. The Steel Corporation in an official book called "The Making, Shaping and Treating of Steel" published by the Carnegie Steel Co. and dated 1925 has this to say on page 573: "It is interesting to consider how the unfavorable attitude toward sulphur (Bessemer) came about. Up to the present decade most of the steel made in this country was acid Bessemer (New Castle's process) in which the sulphur content was between .07 and .1%. Yet there was no complaint of this steel, and that it gave excellent service for nearly all purposes that steel is used cannot be denied. But with the advent of basic steel (O H) the notion became prevalent, thru academic discussions, to explain why this steel should be better than Bessemer. Evidently, if for no other reasons than economic ones, this attitude should be corrected." In other words the Bessemer process is as good as the O H process for any tin or sheet requirements. Ask any tin mill man who knows the business and he will tell you that this is so. Then ask him how the open hearth works.

The Carnegie Steel Mill in this city has a record not equalled by any other plant in the country. The managers of the following plants all got their start in New Castle: Lewis, Duluth—John Oursler, Pittsburgh (now retired)—R. J. Tully, Clairton—O. H. Hartshuff (retired)—Harry Brindle, Sharon—McConnell, W. Va. and a couple more scattered here and there. The local plant has turned out more executive material than any other mill. The first copper steel developed was at the New Castle Plant.

One reason this plant is not operating is this: It must operate as a complete unit, not in sections like an open hearth, and when the orders are low, as they are now and have been for several years, it is uneconomical to operate. It is not because we don't make Open Hearth steel. This mill has made more sheet and tin bar for export to Japan, England, Canada, etc., than any other unit in the corporation making a similar product. Foreign customers have specified New Castle Bars. There is nothing wrong with the steel we used to make. Dividends have to be paid and this plant was not making any, so it was shut down. Several reasons can be had why the plant was not making money. It's a long story and has many ramifications. It will run again some day. Because we have only one steel plant and it is down, some think that the corporation has a grudge against us. Maybe they have, but why? This mill has a very good labor record. Then why again?

The writer of this letter spent over twenty years in the local mill and knows whereof he speaks. Mr. Lewis will have to get a better plan or the vessel light will not shine very soon.

Just Folks

THE SPOILER
The snow fell through the night
And at dawn it arose
'Neath a lanket, spotless white,
Slept the world in sweet repose.

And as far as I could see,
Over street and path and field,
All which ugly seemed to be
Was with loveliness concealed.

Then came men along the way
And the drivers in their cars
On the business of the day,
Leaving livid welts and scars.

Though the dawn had been serene,
Noon was clamorous with toil.
What had been a lovely scene
Man had soon contrived to spoil.

History Up-to-Date—Feb. 4, 211

A. D.—York, England ceased to be the capital of the Roman Empire. Emperor Lucius Septimius Severus, 67, died there. "Where the emperor is there is the capital." His ashes were cremated and he was returned to Rome. With his demise the decline and fall of the Roman empire began in earnest.

Feb. 4, 1194—$1,500,000 ransom was paid for an abducted king.

The King was Richard the Lion-Hearted, who was held captive by Henry VI, emperor of Germany, until Richard's subjects emptied the national treasury to raise the first instalment. Taxation was levied on movable property for the first time to raise the balance.

Feb. 4, 1555—John Rogers, translator of the first complete Bible in English, was burned at stake at Smithfield, England, as a heretic.

Feb. 4, 1789—Elections chosen by the people in the autumn of '88 met in New York and gave George Washington 69 of their 138 ballots with electors of only 10 states voting (See below.)

He had passed his 58th birthday before Charles Thomson, messenger of the Congress, reached Mt. Vernon with the official news.

Feb. 4, 1861—The Congress of the Confederate States of America was formed at Montgomery, Ala. (See below.)

The news reached New York while delegates of 21 states were convened in a peace conference, seeking to avert war.

Feb. 4, 1902—Charles Augustus Lindbergh, was born at 1120 West Forest avenue, Detroit, Mich.

The red stone house, bearing a sign, "The Eagle's Nest, Lindy's Birthplace. Visitors Welcome" now is the home of a family of relief dole dependents.

You're Wrong If You Believe—That George Washington was elected President unanimously.

He wasn't. We repeat this statement because Mrs. Mary Prada, San Jose, Calif., doubts it, and quotes "Federal Textbook on Citizenship Training," published by the U. S. Department of Labor, as an authority.

The Brain Trust is wrong again. When the vote of the first presidential electors was counted, 146 years ago today, the tally was found to be: George Washington 69; John Adams 34; John Jay, 9; R. H. Harrison, 6; John Rutledge, 6; John Hancock 4; George Clinton, 3; Samuel Huntington, 2; John Milton, 2; and James Armstrong, Benjamin Lincoln, Edward Telfair, one each.

Henry C. Gardiner, attorney, San Diego, Calif., says we're wrong if we believe that the conflict of 1861-65 was not a civil war, as stated here. He writes:

"Why are southerners always kicking about the civil war and the 'war of the rebellion'? It certainly was a rebellion against the duly elected and constituted government. The war was always raging about being rebels and saying you are proud to be rebels. Then why kick?"

He adds: "You seem to be prejudiced against the Supreme Court notwithstanding that it released the vessels seized for the very reason that at the time of seizure it was not a civil war and did not become so until the Act of Congress of July 13, 1861, as the court found.... Every member of the Supreme Court at the time the decision referred to had been appointed by Democratic presidents, and Judge Taney of Dred Scott decision fame, was Chief Justice."

The World War
20 Years AgoBy Clark Kinnaird, Author
Of Today Is The Day

The German government sequestered all corn, wheat and flour within the empire 20 years ago this week, and began the rationing which extended in time to all comestibles.

The war had become a question of the powers of resistance of civilian populations rather than of armies.

The Allied blockade was squeezing Germany and Austria at the belt, and four million Germans and polyglot citizens of Franz Josef's empire had been turned from producers into wasters and despoilers. The Central Powers could not grow food fast enough; they didn't have enough men to produce it; and they couldn't get it from abroad.

Soon heavy workers were expected to subsist on weekly rations of bread 6 1/2 lbs.; meat 9 oz.; fats 2 1/2 oz.; sugar 1-3 lb.; potatoes 7 1/2 lbs. For women and children there was less. Fats diminished almost to the vanishing point. They were needed for explosives. Men could do with substitutes or none at all, cannon could not. The fats had to be used to kill, not to keep alive.

The day Britain learned of Germany's beginning of rationing, she ordered seizure of all grain ships bound for Germany, regardless of the flag they were flying.

Germany was striking below the belt, hopeful of making John Bull's paunch smaller. A German submarine made its appearance on the Irish sea on January 31, and carried out a series of daring raids on British merchant-ships, sinking at least three. Four vessels narrowly escaped the raider which was the U-21, the same submarine which torpedoed the light cruiser Pathfinder.

Enemy submarines had appeared in the English channel, as when H. M. E. Formidable was sunk, this was the first occasion on which they had been known to penetrate to the northwest coast of England. The Germans were drawing a blockade around Britain, too. But it was costly work; British intelligence officers learned in January that 14 German subs had been lost. Many of these had been enmeshed in the netting which British had stretched across the English Channel, submerged to about 150 feet and kept in place by anchor buoys. A narrow passage was kept open for merchant shipping, and vigilantly guarded by torpedo boats. The U-boats could not get at troop transports; they could and did go around the island and sink food ships coming from America.

The United States, too, had a foretaste of German ruthlessness 20 years ago this week. A German-born American citizen, one Werner von Horn, attempted to blow up the Canadian Pacific railroad bridge at St. Croix. He was caught, and subsequently revealed that he had been hired to do the job by agents of the Imperial German Embassy in Washington.

German agents were busy that week in Italy, too, but upon a far different purpose. They were there, with Prince von Bulow chief among them, working might and main to keep Italy from entering the war. The complete failure of their efforts was foreshadowed on Jan. 29, when all Italian reservists were called to the colors.

Second Semester Now Beginning At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 4.—Freshmen students enroll today at Westminster College for the second semester. Fresh registration started this morning at 9 o'clock and extends until 4:30 this afternoon.

Registration of sophomores will take place tomorrow morning from 9 to 12; juniors and seniors will register tomorrow afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30. Classes resume Wednesday morning at eight o'clock.

It is thought that the second semester enrollment will be about the same as it was during the first term. The number of new students entering will, it is thought, be about the same as the number dropped for academic failure, those who completed their work at the end of the first semester, and others who were forced to drop out. The enrollment for the first semester was 683.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. February 3, 15 arrests. Drunkenness 9, suspicion 3, violation of parking law, 3.

Police of Erie have reported that $10 counterfeit bills found there have been declared by bankers to be "almost perfect" reproductions which means that Uncle Sam's secret service operatives probably are already in search of the counterfeit bill manufacturers and passers. Erie authorities said the bills had only two minor flaws and these were difficult to detect. The period is omitted after the name of former Secretary of treasury W. O. Woodin and the photographic plate is slightly smaller than on genuine notes. The last time counterfeit bills were discovered here they were referred to federal operatives. This was some months ago.

The groundhog, having seen his shadow, Saturday, six more weeks of cold weather will occur, according to the Old-Timer. This means that Director of parks Joseph D. Alexander will soon have to start employees on early spring work.

On Court House Hill

Commission as notary public for T. J. McNeill of Ellwood City has been entered for record at the register and recorder's office.

The Union Trust company has issued an execution against Edward P. Knobloch and Harry Knobloch for $8,220. It is based on a mortgage covering property on South Mercer street.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received from the sheriff of Trumbull county, O., papers in an execution by the Federal Savings & Loan company of Youngstown, O., against Anna Carangi Di Lorenzo and Antonio Di Lorenzo for $1,093.81. The property upon which the execution is issued is located in Hubbard, O., but the defendants live here.

No time has yet been set for trial of the case of The Thayer company, architects, against the county of Lawrence, in which The Thayer company is seeking to recover $24,280 balance alleged to be due for drawing plans and specifications for a new court house. The case can be placed on the list for trial at the request of either the plaintiff or defendant, but no move in that direction has been made.

The bill which Attorney Charles J. Margiotti has introduced in the state legislature outlawing "ambulance chasing" lawyers will not affect any of the members of the Lawrence county bar. To the great credit of the bar of this county it can be said that there have never been any ambulance chasing lawyers on the list. An ambulance chaser is a lawyer who makes a practice of hunting up persons who have been injured in accidents and inducing them to give him their cases either for a fee or a slice of any verdict which may be obtained.

Under the will of the late William P. Ice of the second ward, which has been entered for probate at the register and recorder's office, all of decedent's property, real and personal, is left to his widow, Mayme C. Ice. Mrs. Ice is named as executrix.

Mrs. Rebecca Jane Crawford of the second ward is sole beneficiary under the will of her husband, the late Edwin W. Crawford. Mrs. Crawford is named as executrix.

Under the will of the late William E. Patterson of Little Beaver township, all of decedent's property is left to his wife, Odella Bird Patterson, for life. At her death Martha Evelyn Strohecker is to receive $2000. Wilbur Francis Patterson $2000 and Mary Alice Patterson $2000. The remainder is to be equally divided among John R. Patterson, Martha Elizabeth Strohecker, Wilbur Francis Patterson and Mary Alice Patterson. Odella Bird Patterson and John R. Patterson are named as executors. The will was drawn in 1925.

William A. Kerr and Laura Ola Crill are named as executors of the will of the late Eliza J. Kerr of this city. After a small bequest to her grandmother, Eliza Jane Buchanan, the decedent directs that the executors hold her property in trust for the use of her husband, Alexander R. Kerr. At his death it is to be divided equally among the following persons: Thomas W. Kerr, William A. Kerr, Edward M. Kerr, Alexander R. Kerr, Jr., Elizabeth Buchanan, Sara Gillespie, Ida Ray and Laura Ola Crill.

County commissioners are growing uneasy over the relief situation since there is an evident disposition on the part of the state government to shift more and more of the burden upon the county. The commissioners have just received a copy of a letter sent to the Beaver county commissioners in which that county is asked to take over 600 families now on the state relief rolls. The only argument which the welfare department seems to put up is that the county could keep the families cheaper than the state, due largely to the state's high overhead. Here is the way the department has figured it out: Cost to county per family per week, $6.99; 600 families per week, $4,190; per year, $214,760. Cost to state per family per week, $11.61; 600 families per week, $6,766; per year, $362,232. According to the state welfare department, the county can keep the families about 40 per cent cheaper than the state, but they don't tell where the county is going to get the money.

Lawrence county is already carrying the burden of between 500 and 600 families. On the county's list are the aged, the infirm, widows and persons who for various reasons are unable to work. In other words, the unemployable. The state relief headquarters carries those who are able to work. One of the tendencies of the state welfare department seems to be to lower the age limit of unemployables. The county has been asked to take on men only 50 years of age. Commissioners do not believe that a man is too old to work at 50 years of age. He should be almost in his prime unless he has physical disabilities. The tendency now seems to be for the government to throw more of the burden of relief on the states, and the states in turn on the counties. In view of the already heavy burden on Lawrence county the commissioners feel that it is doing its full share. If money were provided to pay old age pensions it would lessen the burden on the county, but from present indications it will be some time before relief can be expected from that source.

The next proceeding was that of presenting tenderfoot pins to Betty Jane Swan, Betty Jane Hinbaugh and Jane Walls.

Those receiving the second class badges were Betty Lou Montgomery, Constance Flavian, Freda Hanna and Catherine Peters.

Miss Mildred Miller, the lieutenant, gave miscellaneous badges as follows:

Artist badge, Betty Lou Montgomery; health winner badge, Geraldine Covert, Dorothy Ramsay, Eileen Waite, Florence Snyder, DeMaris Woolslayer, Mary Elizabeth Fonderick; hostess badge, Dorothy Ramsay, Eileen Waite, Geraldine Covert, Mary Elizabeth Fonderick, DeMaris Woolslayer, Helen Houck, Betty Woods, presented by Mrs. G. S. Bennett. Mrs. Bennett also gave the housekeeper badge to Helen Houck.

Chief Sidney Smith gave the Red Cross certificates to the following girls: Laura Snider, Florence Snyder, Eileen Waite, Helen Houck, Dorothy Ramsay, DeMaris Woolslayer and Betty Woods. This was quite an honor or Mr. Smith stated that he was proud of the girls since it was the first time in New Castle that a troop of either girls or boys had passed this examination with such a showing.

Three of the girls, Laura Snider, Florence Snyder and Betty Woods, passed the standard Red Cross exam which is possible only to girls over 17 years old. The other four passed the junior exam.

Miss Betty Pollard, a registered nurse, gave Helen Houck a home nurse badge.

Then came the final touch to the ceremonial. Each girl in her turn went to Sidney Smith, Mildred Miller and Mrs. Smith, receiving the sign of the four directions on her forehead, the sun to guide her by day and the moon to guide her by night, on her cheeks, and three marks on her chin to designate the three parts of the Girl Scout promise.

"Home on the Range" and benediction brought the meeting to a close.

When rings are left in the milk bottle from sour milk standing in it, put a teaspoon of baking soda and some warm water in it and shake well.

Troop Three Girl Scouts Given Awards

Mid-year Court Of Awards Is Conducted In First Christian Church

Troop 3 Girl Scouts held their mid-year Court of Awards last Thursday evening in the First Christian church. The meeting opened with the whole troop sitting in a circle around a wigwam. In the middle of the floor in front of the wigwam there was a campfire.

Sidney Smith, dressed as an Indian chief, beat the tom-tom. A duet, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," was sung by DeMaris Woolslayer and Betty Woods. Helen Houck received her first class badge, thus becoming the first girl in the Juliette Lewis troop to have that honor. Three new girls were installed in the troop at this time, Margaret Alexander, Maxine Mercer and Donna Cartwright, introduced by Helen Houck to Mrs. Sidney Smith, who was dressed as an Indian squaw, and who, after wrapping each girl in a blanket, recognized them as being members of the troop.

The next proceeding was that of presenting tenderfoot pins to Betty Jane Swan, Betty Jane Hinbaugh and Jane Walls.

Those receiving the second class badges were Betty Lou Montgomery, Constance Flavian, Freda Hanna and Catherine Peters.

Miss Mildred Miller, the lieutenant, gave miscellaneous badges as follows:

SUPREME COURT GOLD DECISION IS DELAYED

Decision May Not Come For Weeks

Congressional Leaders Say Importance Of Decision Greatly Magnified

GOVERNMENT IS PREPARED TO ACT

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The rosy optimism of high new deal officials over a favorable supreme court ruling in the vital gold cases took on a more somber hue today after the court made an unprecedented announcement that it was not ready to hand down a decision. Experienced court observers found nothing unusual in the delay. Decision in a hundred billion dollar case in less than a month itself would have been unusual.

But many new dealers in and out of congress had expected the court to leap to a decision and clear up uncertainty over constitutionality of the congressional law abrogating the gold clause in public and private bonds.

See Longer Delay.

The court gave no hint as to when it would be ready to decide the cases. A decision is possible next Monday. Some court observers believe that a court agreement may not be reached for two months because of the intricate legal and constitutional problems involved. Chief Justice Hughes, it is believed, was moved to announce late Saturday night that there would be no decision today, because wide speculation, including reports that a decision was reached two weeks ago.

The decision may not come until much of the excitement created by the possibility of a ruling of constitutionality requiring $169,000,000,000 to pay gold bond debts of $100,000,000,000 has quieted.

Congressional leaders may join in an effort to suppress the nervousness in financial markets which has caused a delay in financial operations.

Ruling Greatly Magnified.

Speaker Joseph Byrnes asserted the importance of the ruling "has been magnified out of all proportions." The statement was taken to mean that the administration has a plan ready to nullify the effect of an unfavorable decision. Admittedly, unless congressional action were taken, the decision would have wide-wide effect.

Within an hour after the high court announces its decision—if unfavorable to the government—an announcement is expected from the treasury or congressional leaders that legislation will be rushed through congress permitting all gold bond debts to be paid dollar for dollar.

This could be done by constitutional amendment, partly accomplished by prohibiting the court of claims from considering claims against the government, a general moratorium with a condition that owners of bonds could accept payment dollar for dollar or by combined state and federal repudiation.

Today

Another Slave Of Man.

Song And Hiccough.

Two Governments, Too Many.

Mahatma Long.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ON FRIDAY, a steel gate twelve feet thick, weighing three million pounds, was closed, and the Colorado River, its water and power, definitely harnessed, made slave of man.

The stream that had wandered as it pleased for millions of years, through the magnificent mile-deep canyon of the Colorado, through Boulder Canyon and Black Canyon, was now tied fast in Black Canyon. The Boulder Dam is a reality. Hereafter, the Colorado will flow as a slave, through the great dam, irrigating deserts, supplying power far away.

Man eventually will control the earth completely. He has made a good start. At Niagara, Panama, Muscle Shoals, Boulder Dam.

KENNETH NEU, killer of two men, hanged in New Orleans, entertainer and singer by profession, sang gaily the day before his hanging, sang in the morning before going to the gallows, said he would sing all day and night.

But when he saw the hangman and the noose, he stopped singing and only did a feeble tap dance on the scaffold.

SOME EMOTIONS are beyond control, for instance, a gentleman who had been hiccoughing incessantly for days, arranged to meet reporters, gave a demonstration and tell all about it.

But when the reporters walked in, with note books, pencils and questionnaires, the gentleman hiccoughed once and no more.

The sight of the reporters gave the gentleman the shock that he needed to cure him.

ORGANIZED LABOR REJECTS the automobile "code," labor leaders expressing anger vehemently.

William Green, highly respected head of the American Federation, is quoted as saying on behalf of his organization:

"We will not accept, nor recognize, nor yield."

THIS CREATES A DIFFICULT situation. It would be unusual to arrange a government regulation of hours, wages, working week, etc., on the understanding that employers would be compelled to obey government regulations, with organized labor permitted not to "accept, recognize or yield," when displeased.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S administration would be justified in considering all of the employers of the automobile industry to a certain extent, in view of these facts. The automobile industry, greatest in the country, pays the best wages of any great industry in the United States, or in the world, and organized labor has had nothing to do with its progress, or high standard of its wages.

IT WOULD SEEM wise for organized labor to attack cautiously an industry so important to millions of men, mechanics, salesmen, owners of agencies, producers of raw materials, and twenty-five million American families that own automobiles and depend on them for life's chief material pleasure.

IF THE AUTOMOBILE industry is to be regulated by force the government should make the rules. There is no sound reason for turning over an industry so highly developed, well paid, pre-eminently successful, to a body of labor union managers that have never had anything to do with it, deserves no credit for its success. To allow leaders, however glibly they may talk, to force their way into that industry, and COLLECT DUES from a gigantic industrial organization, would be like a "muscling in" operation in the racketeer order.

Desire of leaders to collect annual dues and show their power, is not a sound reason for jeopardizing the country's greatest industry, by a labor war, in this dispensation.

IF THREATS TO CLOSE DOWN the steel and textile industries, accompany criticism of the automobile code, there are threats against recovery, against employment, for there cannot be two governments in one country. Whoever says to the nation or government "we will not accept, nor recognize, nor yield," invites a display of government energy, and firmness that might be disconcerting.

THE ADMINISTRATION HAS SHOWN itself so sympathetic toward union labor, and all working classes as to increase by millions the number of dues-paying union members. To jeopardize that situation seems unwise. Nine-tenths of a loaf are much better than no bread. Organized labor is mistaken, if it thinks it owns President Roosevelt.

He was elected President of 125,000,000 Americans, not of three or four millions. And then, there is Fascism to be considered, study Italy. No labor leaders there.

IN INDIA, THE BRITISH rule easily because Hindus that eat pork but not beef and Mohammedans that eat beef but not pork, would kill each other rather than kill Englishmen.

One hundred thousand Britishers in India hold under the thumb of King George three hundred million Hindus and Mohammedans.

CAN IT BE that we have a somewhat similar situation, as regards Senator Huey Long, sometimes called "the Louisiana Mahatma?"

The Senator says "folks" in Louisiana have plotted to murder him. Just think of that. He is even now writing new laws to make murder as nothing more dangerous when applied to Huey Long.

He wants cruel "capitalism" to divide its wealth, but how can he attend to that if people living in his home town are trying to "divide" him?

UNDER SENATOR LONG'S Plan "divide wealth," no American would be allowed to own more than three million dollars. Senator Long, who, as it happens HAS three million dollars, is very able, intelligent, and powerful, and might easily double that fortune.

In that case, he could easily rewrite the law and double the amount that any American might be allowed to keep.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver and bowel poisons before breakfast

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile, no tongue and no sickish breath, or full your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish tang which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all keep it up! Use soap and hot water at on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Here's an item which should be of interest to those who are strong boosters of Florida climate. All the major league teams will do their spring training in that state except five. Florida's competitor for climatic honors, California, is far behind with three clubs, while Louisiana and Mississippi each have one. Francis Field at Washington university in St. Louis was built for the first Olympic games held in America. In conjunction with the world's fair of 1904... Al Lippe, boxing manager, has crossed the Atlantic 100 times and circled the globe twice... Do you know that Kraenzlein, the famous athlete of the University of Pennsylvania, won four first places in the Olympic games of 1900, held in Paris? The yawl, Aelous, built in 1880, is still used in New York waters.

Joe Louis, the Detroit negro heavyweight sensation, was christened Joe Louis Barrow at Montgomery, Ala., in 1914... Charley Hyatt, famous Pitt basketball star of a few seasons ago, scored a total of 909 points in 66 games in three seasons with the Panthers, for an average of 13.8 per contest... Harold Osborn, former high-jumping champion, is 35 years old, but he is staging a comeback. He recently leaped six feet five and one half inches... Don Brennan, Cincinnati pitcher, is an embalmers' union member. In the last six fights of Eddie Zivic in Pittsburgh, the Lawrenceville lad has scored five knockouts, and all five kavo victims were Italians... Doc Hart trained Johnny Coulton for years but he proved to be a hoodoo; he saw him in only one bout, that in which he lost his title to Kid Williams.

Three first basemen in the National league didn't miss a game in 1934. Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh; Jim Collins, St. Louis; and Bill Terry, New York, were the durable demons... When the Santa Anita race track in California opened on Christmas day, there was a window exclusively for $1,000 bets. It isn't open any more though... Max Baer says that no other fighter has ever hit him so hard as Max Schmeling did in the first round of their battle... In signing to play for Indianapolis of the American association this coming season, Siggs Stephenson, former Cub outfielder, returns to the team which Chicago obtained him in 1926... Joe Cronon and Tony Lazzeri are considered the best hit-and-run artists in the American league.

The Boston Red Sox have the oldest bat-boy in the major league. He is Johnny Sheppard, aged 47, an ex-jockey. In Peking, China, the natives like their horse racing and insist on twelve races a day. The jockeys are all Americans and the mounts small Mongolian ponies... Peter Barber and Waldemar Brackel raced from Africa to New York in a 35 foot boat against Ahio Walter and Tom Olsen in a yet smaller boat, all to settle a dinner check... Tiger Flowers former middleweight champion, was knocked out eight times during his career before he won the title from Harry Greb... Miss Peggy Duncan when 15 years old, swam from Robben Island to Capetown, South Africa, through shark infested waters, 7 miles in 10 hours and 5 minutes. She was protected by men with guns in launchers.

Titans Face Dangerous Foe In Bethany Team On Home Floor Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 4.—After having concentrated on methods to stop Geneva, the Westminster College basketball team is now confronted with the problem of stopping John Knight's fast-stepping Bethany College five which last Thursday night defeated Geneva 33-22 at Bethany.

Coach John Lawther was able to have only three full drills for the Titan squad since January 24, and in most of these spent considerable time outlining the tactics of the strong Geneva team. Last Friday night, after finding that the Elsons had won over Geneva, Lawther told them that two hard tests await the Blue and White.

Bethany will be met tonight on the home floor in a game which now promises to be one of the outstanding contests on the schedule. Then two nights later, on Wednesday, the Titans must pep themselves up to stop Ken Loeffler's Geneva College five. Both contests will be hard to win, and both should supply the fans with plenty of fireworks.

The lineups:

Bethany: Westminster Sweeney, Pickett, Krivosh, Krivosh, Doepkin, Bennett, McDonnell, Hunneke, Eskey, G. G. Wilhelm.

Referee, Harold Campbell; umpire, Kenneth Heider; game starts at 8:15.

Finishing Takes Lead In Second Half Of League

Champs Defeat Inspection, 26-20, In Hard Battle At Shelby Auditorium

MECHANICS TRIM BAR MILL QUINT

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 4.—Finishing eagles, defending champions and winners of the first half jumped to the lead of the second half of the Shelby Inter-department basketball league with a 26-20 victory over the Inspection quintet Saturday night at the auditorium. In their first game the Mechanics trimmed the Bar Mill 39-14.

The Mechanics had things much their own way and after taking an early lead were never much in danger. They held a 9-3 edge in the first quarter, 17-9 at the half, 25-14 in the third quarter, and 39-14 final. Ben Arnold of the Mechanics starred during the evening by caging five field goals and three fouls for a total of 13 points. Means was for the losers.

The second game between the Finishing and Inspection was a nip and tuck affair throughout. The champs were handicapped by the absence of two good performers, Ursu and McKim, and were without a sub on the bench. But they proved equal to the task and staged a last quarter rally that gave them victory. The score was close throughout, the game was 5-3 at the end of the first stanza, 15-9 at half-time; 16-15 in the third quarter, and 26-20 final. Capt. Tom Barnes, Cavalier, and Justine led the attack for the victors. The former was high scorer of the game with 9 points. Latiano, Fitzgerald, and Smith were outstanding for the losers.

On Wednesday night the Office will meet the Inspection and the Mechanical the Cold Draw.

Her Lecture On 'Psychology Of Business Success' Enjoyed By Members

Council Views Two Thoroughfares

Raymond Street And Leasure Avenue Residents Want Cartways Paved

No business, other than the reading of the minutes, was transacted by council at their meeting held in city hall today.

The reason was lack of business and also because Councilman Hoyland, Solicitor White and City Clerk Burns were in Pittsburgh.

After council meeting, the council accompanied City Engineer Hoskins on a view of Raymond street and Leasure avenue which residents have asked council to pave with the new plan which will cost about $1.65 a foot front.

STOCKS

Stock Market Is Irregular

Commodities Show More Reaction; Steel Shares Are Mixed Today

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The stock market was dull and irregular.

Commodities showed more of a reaction, with losses running to more than a cent a bushel in wheat. The dollar lost some ground and bonds were sluggish.

Commonwealth and Southern preferred touched the best level this year. United Corp. preferred pointed higher.

Rails ran into further scattered liquidation. This was shown in lower prices for Atchison and N. Y. Central.

Steels were mixed. U. S. Steel was lower.

Mail order shares showed a better undertone. International Harvester lost a point in the implement makers. Chemicals were fractionally easier.

Utilities were steady in the face of the new federal trade commission blast against discrepancies in rates. General Motors and Chrysler were lower.

No. 2 Mine Now Being Repaired

Men Transferred Temporarily To No. 5 In Leesburg District

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Feb. 4.—The No. 2 Mine of the Sharon Coal and Limestone Company, a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Company is closed down for repairs, state officials.

This mine, with No. 5 located in Springfield township, has been in operation 15 years. The close down is to equip the No. 2 Mine with an electric hoist and overhaul the mine equipment.

Work has already started on the erection of the cage in the 65 foot shaft; the delivery medium of the 350 coal miners employed at this pit. A part of the men have been transferred to the contiguous No. 5 Mine during the work period. To keep up coal deliveries, the open mine will work five days a week where the schedule has been two.

It is learned that the plan is to modernize the No. 2 Mine with the idea of closing the other pit at some time in the future. The two mines employ 600 men.
